FIGHTING HUMAN TRAFFICKING

This sustainability story is one of many that shows how Olin products, technologies, ideas, and people are having a positive impact on our world.

SUSTAINABILITY CHALLENGE

• It is estimated that over 40 million people around the world are victims of human trafficking.
• In the United States, human trafficking has been reported in every state.
• As the eyes and ears of our nation’s highways, commercial truck drivers can play a valuable role in stopping human slavery and recovering victims.

OLIN’S SOLUTION

• Olin is doing its part to fight heinous human trafficking crimes by supporting Truckers Against Trafficking (TAT).
• TAT is a non-profit organization that provides information to truckers and bus drivers on how to identify potential victims of trafficking crimes and reporting them to law enforcement for investigation.
• Olin ensures its own truck drivers are trained by TAT so they can play an important role in identifying potential human slavery crimes as they travel the roads of North America.

POSITIVE IMPACT

• TAT has trained over 730,351 individuals on how to identify and report victims of human trafficking.
• Over 2,000 calls have been made to TAT’s national hotline resulting in the identification of 612 likely human trafficking cases involving over 1,000 victims.
• By financially supporting TAT as a Silver Level Sponsor and properly training its truck drivers, Olin is helping to keep our nation’s roads and communities safe.

Olin is joining the fight to stop human trafficking!

Olin provides equal opportunities to employees and ensures the ongoing safety and livelihood of our people and communities.
As we continue on our sustainability journey, we invite you to follow our progress at www.Olin.com.